

DAVID'S NEWS

Well bless you!

This newsletter has some lovely stories about how people were healed and given hope using banners. Please let us know your stories- you encourage others with them.

I just watched a video of the story of the banners being used on horseback in Mongolia mentioned in the August edition. It made me weep! It is so exciting to see people using banners to speak into their culture.

I'm back in Australia for a few months, and it's great to be home! I look forward to releasing the DVD sets and the E-Book before Christmas.

Banner on!

MY PRAYER SHAWL

... I scanned over some of the banners and saw the exact design that was in my vision...the hues of blue with white rivulets. I asked the attendant if that was a prayer shawl and she said that it was not but that it could be used as one...I reached over to get a better look at the banner and to my humility, the name of the banner was "Holiness". It was then and there that I found my prayer shawl...I have used it in my quiet time with Father and I must say that there is such an anointing on the use of it that it still amazes me that God used David's banners to provide a prayer shawl for me. I am so thankful for his obedience and I am thankful to God for Him.

Feedback:

I have received the two banners I ordered. They are so beautiful. Some of the children in church said they look like clouds. They all loved the colours. Thank you. Connie E. USA

YET WILL I REJOICE

Recently, when I got to Rainbow Prison Ministries I was down for the count. Everything just piled up on top of my head and weighed on me like a metal mass. Even though my heart wanted to be present for those 10 to 15 gals who took time off their "movie night" to come to church, after about the third song Joel played I quietly took my seat and rested my head in my hands. I could feel the women rally around me -- they are true warriors, often drawn into the futile battles of life -- yet it's so amazing when given the opportunity to help someone else how they jump on it. At that moment, they let me know how much they appreciated and valued me, and so I simply let them do what I felt was my job to do last night, and they lifted me up instead. One of the girls came up to me handing me the banner called, "Yet Will I Rejoice."

Habakkuk 3:17 "Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labor of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls: Yet I will rejoice in the LORD, I will joy in the God of my salvation.'

My simple words, "I'm not going to give up," sparked a hope in them as well to keep believing. Cindy and Joel CA USA Read the Full Story

RESTORATION

During the 6th International Creative Arts Conference which was held in Malaysia, I had my first experience using banners and I now know God's healing power through banners, personally.

A few weeks prior to the conference, with a very tight schedule to develop a presentation, I twisted my left ankle, which meant that during practices, my ankle was wrapped for support. As time went by both ankles were hurting. An old injury came back as a result of compensating for the new injury. During the time of the conference, upon waking, I had trouble even placing my feet on the floor. Being at such a high altitude and cold early mornings didn't help.

I was registered for one of the banner classes where David spoke about the background of his ministry in using banners and taught simple banner techniques.

He then moved into a time for ministry. A few of the delegates and including me stepped in to be ministered to. As we lay on the floor and with banners moving all around us, I experienced such peace and rest. When I opened my eyes, I found the banner 'Restoration' covering me. The next morning I had no pain getting to my feet. Praise God!! With that I was able to go all out in the dance for my Lord.
