

About this Book

Wielding Banners for Worship, Warfare and Ministry is a practical guide for the effective use of banners or flags in Christian worship, spiritual warfare and ministry. The book offers foundational guidelines for use and etiquette, exploring WHO should use banners; WHAT they are, WHEN and WHERE they can be used and WHY they are important tools in God's Kingdom today. Biblical word studies are provided on banners, colour and movement in worship.

Also included are comprehensive explanations of HOW banners can be used, with descriptions and photographs of warm-ups, stances and movements. Banner use is illustrated with fresh insight that includes applications for personal and corporate ministry.

"Banners in worship are quite common among apostolically-inclined churches today. However, intelligent, intentional, and inspired employment of banners is still rare. David Stanfield, one of the world's most respected experts in the use of banners, hopes to reverse this trend. Wielding Banners will provide you an abundance of sound biblical, practical, and experiential information for you to raise your worship to a new level."

"I love this book. It presents a perspective on the banners of God in worship like few I have seen. Lead us forth mighty man of God! Teach us to honour our Father in new ways of demonstrative worship."

Dr. Charles D. "Chuck" Pierce,
President of Glory of Zion
International Ministries, Texas, USA

"The personal accounts add to this book's entertainment value. Read some sections aloud and it's David Stanfield talking at a workshop-the common sense and humility, with that quiet undercurrent of humour and that patient, purposeful passion. This book is a valuable addition to worship and prayer literature and an excellent reference source on banner use."

David is a Network Coordinator with the International Christian Dance Fellowship and a member of The Australian Children's Prayer Network.

The anointing to release men and women into worship flows through large silk banners that he designs and uses. For men these banners allow bold and masculine movements which better capture the heart of a man after God. For women these banners encourage a freedom and expression vital for live worship. David has a special gift for facilitating children in worship as well. He delights in running worship workshops with banners.

David is married to Marta. They have three children, Christopher, Elizabeth and Daniel.

About this Anointing

"Every now and then throughout history, God raises up someone with an anointing to break through and establish something new. They will not be deterred by the opinions and thoughts of man, for they are carrying a brand new weapon in God's heavenly arsenal to be unfurled against the enemy."

"Flags and banners have been around for many years, but David Stanfield is emerging with a fresh insight into their use. He clearly carries the touch of God on his life. While others saw a shepherd boy, God saw a king!"

"David carries a cutting-edge anointing for the strategic and powerful release of flags and banners to be used for worship, warfare and ministry in the great 'End Time Army.'"

"God is using David and has uniquely gifted him to harness and train exuberant flag wavers of all ages and genders, bringing strategic order and purpose and a correct Biblical understanding of their use. I highly recommend this book."
